

Tail piece By Annalize Mouton

Walking on water. If the beach is far away on a hot summer's day, the pool is the place to go. Dhubha was more than happy to take a flying leap after a ball thrown by her owner, W P Burger, when the temperature in Worcester hit 42°C in January. Dhubha, whose name means “black” in Gaelic, is a smart dog who can even repeat a specific rhythmic beat and who counts by thumping her paw on her food bowl.