Stuck in a hole. As expected, Anna, our baby Great Dane, has grown almost visibly from day to day over the past two months. In her last picture she weighed 3,5 kg; now, at just under four months old, she weighs in at 23,1 kg. She could never get through the cat flap in the glass door anyway, but now she has to go down on her haunches just to get her head through (this happens when her “Dad” is on the stoep, and she is inside, hence the distressed look). Her back is now knee-high to a grown-up person.
